THE SUCCESSION PLAN.

Department of Connecticut G. A. R. Said to Have Broken it Last Year.

It looks now as if the "succession in office" idea, which for a number of years has provalled in the election of the higher officers in the department of Connecticut G. A. R. had been permaeantly put aside. Last February the told this idea had on the department was broken by the election of Junior Vice Commander McKee, who was pledge not to accept a promotion. He Barnard was a cousin of Dr. Henry seller. was elected on that issue. This, however, did not include in the agreement | The house in which she died was the the setting aside of O. W. Cornish, of Waterbury, now senior vice department | father, John Barnard, was born there. ommander, who will probably be the next department commander and the ast elected under the old promotion and succession in office plan.

The Meriden Republican says: "For several years some of the leading men n the G. A. R. have been fighting the idea, and as the campaign for the election of commander and other officers is now on, it is very plainly seen that men from the smaller posts, who have pledged themselves not to accept promotion, will be put in the senior vice and junior vice chains. A number of Meriden people have received circulars announcing the candidacy of A. W. Converse, of J. H. Converse post of Windsor Locks, for senior vice, who distinctly states that he is pledged not to accept promotion. The Middletown Tribune says of the

oming annual encampment;
"The election of department officers for next year will soon be here. From resent appearances there may two candidates for commander, and there are already about half a dozen "possibili ties" for junior vice commander. For the position of senior vice commander there is at present but one candidate in the field, and he is so strong and well supported, that it would seem to be an unfavorable time for any other to be in the field against him. The comrade referred to is A. W. Converse, Post No. 67, of Windsor Locks. Comrade Converse has been commander of his post for seven years, and has been treasurer of the savings bank at Windor Locks since 1871. He has not sough the office, but is the candidate of all the posts in his section of the state, who feel that they are entitled to recogpromotion next year. This is a very strong point in his favor, for the feeling grows every month in the department that the time has come when no man should ask for office for more than one year, even if he coud get it, but as the days of the Grand Army are growing fewer and fewer, that an entire new slate should be made up each year, and the small posts, like Con-in these days, however good his intentions, can carry enthusiasm enough into the work to last him three years and enable him to respond to all the calls of the post upon him for visita-
